Ready, Aim, Fire! - by Jonathan Kern

Shooting sports has had a great week! We have new counselors and they are doing a great job. This week has shown us a lot of inexperienced shooters, and they ALL have shown major improvement.

In Archery, the boys made their own arrows from tip to nock. Then they shot the arrows that they made.

At the Shotgun range, the boys were taught the principles of safe shooting, after which they shot at clay pigeons. At Rifle they were shown how to handle a gun, and be a safe shooter. Then they were allowed to shoot 5 shots within a Quarter's diameter 5 times, and then 3 shots 3 times. After qualifying they were allowed to shoot any pattern they wanted.

Many thanks to Detzel, Skip, Ellie, Marvin, and Richard, for all your patience.

Chaplain's Corner - by Rev. Scott A. Fleming, DD

Scouts indicate that summer camp is more than just a place to have fun.

It also offers Scouts the opportunity to participate in physically and intellectually challenging activities, introduces them to new and rewarding experiences, and provides them with supportive and caring relationships. sixty-nine percent of which contemplate their own relationships with God at least once throughout the week.

Scouting brings the future of Scouts into the present by giving them opportunities to seek a vocation in which they can serve their community, country, and private organizations while still having FUN!

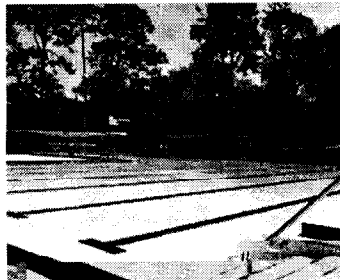

Also, other Scouts have an impact on influencing the lives of other Scouts. Just as the lone Scout in England did a good turn for a businessman who brought Scouting to the masses of Boys in the United States. How are you going to influence the lives of the people around you today?

Small actions can make huge impacts!

In the Swim - by Lance Krynicki

So what exactly is there not to love about the pool? The same temperature, nice and clean, and we teach younger scouts to swim, which is a rewarding experience because their are so full of joy.

Here at the pool you can take swimming and lifesaving, snorkeling, SCUBA, and BSA lifeguard. Every Monday night we play a game where scouts jump into the water and swim 25 meters, while gathering 4 "snakes" (pieces of cork with rope attached to them).

Then other scouts dive in to do some "backyard gator wrestling", then tag another scout who runs to chug some "lake water", a mix of all the drinks in the dining hall. When visiting the pool say hi to the area director; Andrew Luciano.

Campwide Games- By Alex Gregg

The campwide games are the best kept secret in camp!

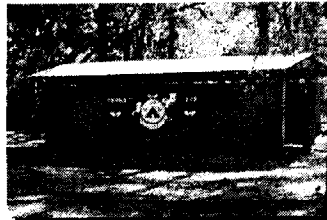

For the informed campers, the games have been going on everyday in a different area. Here's what we've done so far...

Monday- Aquatics; pool relay race/ obstacle course.

Tuesday-Team Discovery; relay race,

Wednesday-

Scoutcraft; tomahawk throw.

All participating troops had a great time, and there is still more fun to come!

From the Top - by Philip Lambert (Contributor)

The camp adventure area has gotten off to a wonderful start. Chants of "Climber on top" resonate through the camp, as scouts learn the enjoyment and sense of accomplishment achieved through climbing and rappelling. As the master and commander of the area, Christ Margias proclaims; "The view is always better from the top".

Climbing Tower

The summer is off to a great start, and we look forward to the next group of scouts so we can open their eyes to new and exciting experiences.

On the Waterfront- by Lance Krynicki

First off, I would like to say-welcome to Camp La-No-Che! I hope your children will bring home many stories about our aquatic program. Lake Norris is our waterfront area where we provide a safe and fun environment for all scouts. Some of the merit badges we teach are Rowing, Canoeing, Small Boat Sailing, Skiing, Motorboating, and Kayaking. We also offer other activities, such as Advanced Sailing and Windsurfing.

Every morning we rise bright and early to go down and participate in the mile swim. The sunrise in the morning is absolutely beautiful with all of the different colors reflecting off the water, and the mile swim participants are fortunate enough to experi-

I hope you all get the opportunity to visit the waterfront.

While there, please say hello to the Waterfront Director;

Stephen Johnston.

and the rest of the waterfront staff.
